UNITED STATES AIR FORCE

CHIEF MASTER SERGEANT JAMES L. BROWN

Chief Master Sergeant James L. Brown is the Command Senior Enlisted Leader for the Kansas National Guard, and as such, manages the enlisted force and represents their interests at all levels of local and state government and to the Kansas public. He serves as the personal advisor to the Kansas Adjutant General on all issues regarding the professional development, readiness, training, utilization, health, morale, and welfare of the nearly 6,500 enlisted members of the Kansas Army and Air National Guard. Command Chief Brown currently serves as the Chairman of the Air National Guard's Enlisted Field Advisory Council. He is also a member of the Air Directorate Field Advisory Council and the Strategic Planning System Council and manages numerous other advisory committees and promotion boards. Command Chief Brown previously served as the State Command Chief of the Kansas Air National Guard.

Command Chief Brown entered the Air Force in August of 1985. He was assigned to Malmstrom AFB, Montana as a nuclear security specialist. He was transferred to Woensdrecht AFB, Netherlands and Wiesbaden AFB, Germany where he served as a GLCM Nuclear Security Specialist. Upon his separation from the Air Force in 1990, he enlisted in the Kansas Air National Guard. His military background includes numerous leadership roles at squadron, group, deployed command, Joint Forces Headquarter levels, and with the joint National Guard and Kansas State Partnership Program. Command Chief

Brown previously served as the region two Primary Coordinator and the Vice Chairman on the Air National Guard's Enlisted Field Advisory Council. He is the recipient of numerous awards and decorations for leadership, distinctive accomplishments in support of Security Forces activities world-wide, and for joint civil-military operations. Command Chief Brown served as the Deputy Chief of Police for the Kansas City, KS Police Department and retired after 32 years in law enforcement as the Chief of Police of the Topeka Kansas Police Department.
